

Hide and seek is a great game for practicing numbers. You could start with 1 to 10 and gradually increase. When your child knows them well you could count down backwards.

I Close my eyes and do not look!

1,2,3,.....

Ready or not here I come!

Where are you?

I am coming!

When seeking it's a good opportunity to repeat words without it sounding repetitive. "Where are you?" "Are you behind the sofa?" or "Are you behind the door?" Add in as much language as you think your child will be comfortable with and still keep the implicit fun of the game.

Are you here?

Or perhaps here?

Are you

- in the kitchen, bedroom, bathroom, in the bed,...
- under the bed, chair, table
- behind the door,...

Here you are! I found you 😊
